THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 1769.

LONDON,

THE humble ADDRESS of the Right Honourable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled, preſented to His Majeſty on Wedneſday the 9th of November, 1768.

Die Martis, 8° Novembris, 1768.

MOST GRACIOUS SOVEREIGN,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in parliament aſſembled, beg leave to return your Majeſty our humble thanks for your moſt gracious ſpeech from the Throne.

We deſire, with hearts full of gratitude, to acknowledge that Royal Goodneſs, ſo evidently manifeſt to all your people by your Majeſty's conſtant attention to the great commercial intereſts of this country. We ſhould be wanting on our part, if we did not apply to the conſideration of them with that alacrity, which objects ſo very important, and capable of producing the moſt eſſential benefits to the nation, demand of us.

The reſolution, which your Majeſty is pleaſed to expreſs, that you will not ſuffer any attempt to be made derogatory to the honour and dignity of your crown, or injurious to the rights of your people, does, and ever will call from us the aſſurances of our moſt chearful ſupport; nor do we conceive that any conduct can contribute more than this will, to render all the other powers of Europe as careful, as your Majeſty has ever been, to avoid taking any ſtep that may endanger the general tranquillity.

We feel the moſt ſincere concern, that any of our fellow ſubjects in North-America ſhould be miſled, by factious and deſigning men, into acts of violence and reſiſtance to the execution of the law, attended with circumſtances that manifeſt a diſpoſition to throw off their dependance upon Great-Britain. At the ſame time, that we ſhall be always ready to contribute to the relief of any real grievance of your Majeſty's American ſubjects, we moſt unfeignedly give your Majeſty the ſtrongeſt aſſurances, that we ſhall ever zealouſly concur in ſupport of ſuch juſt and neceſſary meaſures, as may beſt enable your Majeſty to repreſs that daring ſpirit of diſobedience, and to enforce a due ſubmiſſion to the laws: Always conſidering, that it is one of our moſt eſſential duties, to maintain inviolate, the ſupreme authority of the legiſlature of Great-Britain over every part of the dominions of your Majeſty's crown.

We thankfully adore the merciful interpoſition of Providence, in the relief which the poorer ſort of your Majeſty's ſubjects have received, from the diſtreſs they had ſo long laboured under from the high price of corn. We ſhall apply our utmoſt attention to prevent, as far as in human prudence lies, the return of ſuch a calamity; and ſhall give ſo important a ſubject that full conſideration, which the nature of it neceſſarily requires.

Engaged in the deliberation of ſo many important matters, we beg leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that we ſhall ſtudiouſly endeavour that our proceedings may teſtify our readineſs to unite, wherever the intereſt of our country, and our attachment to your Majeſty, is concerned. Happy, if by ſuch an example, the deluded part of your Majeſty's ſubjects may be induced to return to their duty, and gratefully feel the bleſſings of the mildeſt government, and moſt perfect conſtitution.

THE humble ADDRESS of the Houſe of Commons to the KING.

MOST GRACIOUS SOVEREIGN,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Commons of Great Britain, in parliament aſſembled, return your Majeſty our humble thanks for your moſt gracious Speech from the Throne.

And beg leave to congratulate your Majeſty upon the ſafe delivery of the Queen, and the birth of another Princeſs; an event which muſt afford the greateſt comfort to all your Majeſty's ſubjects, as it is an increaſe of your own domeſtic felicity, and an additional ſecurity that the bleſſings we enjoy under your Majeſty's auſpicious government will be continued to our lateſt poſterity.

We aſſure your Majeſty, that, duly ſenſible of the importance of thoſe great commercial intereſts pointed out to us by your Majeſty, we will with all convenient diſpatch enter upon the conſideration of them, and will uſe our utmoſt endeavours to adjuſt and regulate them in ſuch manner as may be productive of ſolid and laſting advantages to the public.

We moſt gratefully acknowledge your Majeſty's paternal regard for the ſafe and welfare of your people, which has made you ever deſirous of continuing to them the bleſſings of peace; at the ſame time, we entirely rely on your Majeſty's conſtant and watchful attention to the general intereſts of Europe; and feel the higheſt ſatisfaction from your gracious declaration, that no conſideration ſhall prevail on your Majeſty to ſuffer any attempt which may be made, derogatory to the honour of your crown, or injurious to the rights of your people.

We ſincerely lament that the arts of wicked and deſigning men ſhould have been able to re-kindle that flame of ſedition in ſome of your Majeſty's colonies in North-America, which, at the cloſe of the late parliament, your Majeſty ſaw reaſon to hope was well nigh extinguiſhed.

We ſhall be ever ready to hear and redreſs any real grievance of your Majeſty's American ſubjects; but we ſhould betray the truſt repoſed in us, if we did not withſtand every attempt to infringe or weaken our juſt rights; and we ſhall always conſider it as one of our moſt important duties, to maintain entire and inviolate the ſupreme authority of the legiſlature of Great-Britain over every part of the Britiſh empire.

We beg leave to preſent our moſt dutiful thanks to your Majeſty, for having taken ſuch ſteps as you judged neceſſary for ſupporting the conſtitution, and for repreſſing that ſpirit of faction and diſobedience, which, in the chief town of one of your Majeſty's colonies, appears to have proceeded even to acts of violence, in direct defiance of all legal authority; and we will, by every means in our power, chearfully and zealouſly ſupport your Majeſty in all ſuch future meaſures as ſhall be found requiſite to enforce a due obedience to the laws, to reſtore order and good government where they have been diſturbed, and to eſtabliſh the conſtitutional dependance of the colonies on Great-Britain, ſo eſſential to the intereſt and proſperity of both.

With hearts full of gratitude to the Divine Goodneſs, we partake of the joy which fills your Majeſty's royal breaſt, on ſeeing the poorer ſort of your people relieved from the diſtreſs which they have lately ſuffered by the high price of corn; and we will, by every prudent meaſure, endeavour to guard as far as in us lies againſt the return of that calamity.

Your faithful Commons will, with the utmoſt readineſs, chearfully grant to your Majeſty every neceſſary ſupply; and [illegible] in their proceedings that uniform attachment to the public good, which your Majeſty is graciouſly pleaſed [illegible] which your Majeſty's own conduct ſo [illegible]

TO THE PRINTER.

IN a political foſtery, of which I have the honour to be a member HUGH CASSIDY, who, tho' but an Iriſhman, has the cureſt tongue and beſt head-piece) got up, and delivered himſelf as follows.

'It may appear an effect of the higheſt preſumption in me to offer my poor ſentiments on this moſt important criſis in the affairs of this kingdom; but I feel myſelf ſo ſtrongly affected, that I am unable to keep ſilence; America is, indeed, very near my heart; and if this aſſembly will indulge me with their patience, while I ſubmit my opinion to them, I ſhall little regard whether that opinion will be approved by Mr. Otis, or not; nor am I ſo narrow minded as not to be equally indifferent as to ſentiments of Mr. Otis, and of that noble Gentleman.

'The preſent ſtate of our colonies is, the moſt momentous ſubject ever under the conſideration of this, the moſt illuſtrious aſſembly upon earth. Highly unworthy would it be of the wiſdom, and inconſiſtent with the dignity of ſuch an aſſembly, to offer compliments inſtead of counſel, at ſuch a criſis; to approve the purſuit of meaſures, whoſe propriety they are ignorant of, and to condemn whole realms unheard. I have heard that the A——s petitions have not been received by the adminiſtration. If this aſſembly ſhould by their addreſs, virtually condemn their conduct, it would make them altogether deſperate; the ſpeech, is too enigmatical for me to underſtand; it hints at ſomething, but communicates nothing; it is like the penning of a whiſper; one hears a ſmall ſound, but receives no ideas.

'To the addreſs, in general, I have no great objection; it is, like moſt other addreſſes, a kind of echo of the ſpeech; a faithful copy, ſomething fainter than the original. But I muſt move in ſupport of the amendment; without which, I cannot but think we ſhall preclude ourſelves from a fair enquiry into the conduct of the adminiſtration. With what decency can we condemn, if we ſhould diſapprove thoſe meaſures, whoſe propriety we acknowledge, by thanking his M——y for purſuing them, for judging them neceſſary?'

For my own part, I confeſs, with regard to A——a, I ſee no neceſſity for ſuch violent meaſures as have been taken; or, if there was neceſſity, it was of the Miniſtry's own creation. When I ſee at the head of the ——, a perſon whoſe former opinions are appealed to as authority in every ſeditious pamphlet, with which N——h A——a ſwarms; when I ſee the principles of the man, who, by his ſtation is the oracle of the —— in England, become the Magna Charta of N——h A——an licentiouſneſs; I cannot but apologize for the N—— h A——s, who are ſupported in their intemperance by ſuch high authority. But when I ſee the ſame man joining in ſupport of the uniform plan of oppreſſion towards the N—— h A——ns, begun by the adminiſtration at his firſt coming into power, and ſtill perſevered in; my aſtoniſhment at the folly of his opinions, is loſt in indignation at his conduct.

When the late —— thought proper to paſs the ſtamp-act, N——h A——a was ſoon all in flames; but, when the parliament reſting upon it's own wiſdom repealed that act, upon conſtitutional principles, not wild chimæras, the colonies returned to their ſtate of coolneſs and tranquility. The diſorder was now brought to an intermiſſion, and a wiſe Phyſician, by the application of proper medicines, would have prevented a return of the paroxyſm. There was at that time in the miniſtry, but, unfortunately for this country, is now no more, a man who, amongſt innumerable great and amiable abilities, had one defect, ſo dangerous, perhaps, as can fall to the ſhare of a ſtateſman; a deſire, I mean, to pleaſe every body. In oppoſition to his own judgment, he was induced by that failure in his diſpoſition, to aſſiſt the miniſtry in the exertion of their darling prerogative; a bauble they were as fond of ſhewing on every occaſion, as a child is of his favourite play-thing. They levied a tax; ſent an army of cuſtom-houſe officers to collect it: All A——a took the alarm; a motion was made in the aſſembly at B——n to ſend letters circular to all the colonies, in order that the whole N——h A——n continent might at once petition for a redreſs of this grievance. The motion did not at firſt ſucceed; but the alarm growing ſtronger, it paſſed, and an order in conſequence of it was entered in the journal of the houſe. The Governor received orders to command the aſſembly to eraſe the order from their journals, under pain of the aſſembly being diſſolved: and upon their refuſal to ſubmit to this command, the aſſembly was diſſolved. By what law of nature, or by what principle in the conſtitution of this country, the Miniſters think themſelves authorized to offer the alternative of blind ſubmiſſion to their caprice, or inſtant diſſolution to the aſſembly of N—w E——d, they have not thought proper to communicate to us. I think it is an authority which neither it, nor ought to be, lodged in leſs awful hands than the whole legiſlative body of this country; and I doubt not but this aſſembly will conſider this uſurpation of their authority as an high miſdemeanor in whoever adviſed it. The miniſtry, however, having thus by lordly nod laid proſtrate the aſſembly, the convention crept forth like vermin from its dead carcaſs; and the people, in the impotence of rage, undoubtedly were guilty of many acts of violence. Theſe ſubtle politicians were at laſt at a nonplus, and could invent no other means of ſupporting their uſurped authority, but the interpoſition of the military, that laſt reſource of ignorant deſpotiſm. But they ought to know, that countries are not to be kept in obedience by cuſtom-houſe officers, official letters, nor even by an armed band, when the minds of men are totally alienated from their governors. Their folly muſt be ſoothed, their prejudices indulged; and, unleſs this is done, the alterations juſt glanced at by the gentleman who ſeconded the addreſs, as propoſed to be made in the appointment of their juries and council, will be entirely uſeleſs. To whomſoever the preſent adminiſtration ſhall transfer that appointment, the juries and council muſt be compoſed of men filled with that abhorrence of our miniſters, univerſal in that country. Where they are over-awed by our armed battalions, the diſcontent will vent itſelf in reproaches and ſeditious diſcourſes but, the moment our army is removed from B——n to ſuppreſs an inſurrection in any other of the provinces, the ſmothered indignation will break out into acts of violence and rebellion. Thus ill has this boaſted trial of the N—h A——ns ſucceeded. The miniſtry has for its amuſement ſown a crop of thorns, which I hope this aſſembly will eradicate, and prevent, if poſſible, the raiſing any other ſuch crop, for the future. Such has been the conduct of adminiſtration in A——a.

WAR-OFFICE, November 8.

LIEUTENANT-General Sir Jeffery Amherst is appointed to be Colonel of the 3d regiment of foot (or the Buffs) in the room of Major-General Ralph Burton, deceased

Lieutenant-General Studholme Hodgson to be Colonel of the 4th (or the King's own) regiment of foot, in the room of Col Robert Brudenell, deceased.

Lieutenant-General Sir Jeffery Amherst, to be Colonel in Chief of the 60th (or Royal American) regiment of foot.

The honourable Col. William Howe, to be Lieutenant-Governor of the Isle of Wight, in the room of Col. John Mompesson, deceased.

Lieutenant-Colonel John Maxwell, of the 20th regiment of foot, to be Captain of Cowes Castle, in the Isle of Wight, in the room of Colonel Robert Brudenell, deceased.

London, Nov. 15. There were no less than twenty-two petitions delivered to the Hon. House of Commons on Thursday last, complaining of undue elections for different places.

We hear that the copies of the records of a certain popular gentleman's commitment, are ordered to be laid before an august assembly.

It is said Colonel Grant is appointed to the 63d regiment, in the room of Major-General Marcus Smith, deceased; and that Lieut. Col. Jervas Remington kissed his Majesty's hand on Friday, on being appointed to the 43d regiment of foot.

INTELLIGENCE EXTRAORDINARY.

BAREGE, or, as some write the Word, Barege, a Village celebrated for its Baths, is situated in the Valley of Barege, in the District of Bigorre in the Province of Gascony, in the Kingdom of France; and at the Distance of a League from the Kingdom of Arragon, from which it is seperated by the Pyrenean Mountains.

This Village may be considered, as central to Paris, Madrid, Turin; within Reach of Ship News from the Atlantic; well situated in Respect to those Towns in France and Spain, where resside Persons, civil and military, attached over to FIFTEEN and FORTY-FIVE; and as having offered convenient Retreat, out of Harm's Way, to a Favourite, for all honest Purposes.

November 17. Sir Charles Whitworth, member for Minshead in Somersetshire, is appointed chairman of the committee of ways and means, and supply, at the House of Commons.

This morning at two o'clock, died the most noble Thomas Holles Pelham, Duke of Newcastle upon Tyne, in Northumberland, and Duke of Newcastle under Line, in Staffordshire, Marquis of Clare, and Lord Pelham, Knight of the Garter, one of his Majesty's most Hon. Privy-Council, Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of Nottinghamshire, Steward, Keeper and Guardian of the forest of Sherwood and park of Folewood, in the county of Nottingham, Chancellor of the university of Cambridge, Recorder of the town of Nottingham, a Governor of the Charter-house, and F. R. S.

They write from Hamburgh, that it was expected his Prussian Majesty would join the Empress of Russia against the Turks, in case the latter should declare war, as was hourly expected.

It is reported that an admiral with five sail of the line, and three frigates, will soon sail on an expedition, but whither is not publickly known.

London, Nov. 24. The Hon. House of Commons was very full yesterday, and sat late.

We are assured that a certain popular gentleman will be ordered to attend a grand assembly to morrow se'nnight.

In the year 1747, the Spaniards declared war against Great-Britain, in order to give France leisure to prepare herself; the last time France struck the first blow, and Spain finished. It is now said, that while France is preparing, the court of Spain is to amuse us with a declaration of war, though perhaps it will not be a diversion in their favour.

The Elector Palatine being in a declining way, the Dutchies of Juliers and Bergues will be disputed by the King of Prussia; and France being engaged to guarantee that succession to the reigning Duke of Deux Ponts, successor to the Elector, who, in return, gives up his Dutchies in Alsace to France. This, most probably, will occasion a war on the Lower Rhine.

Russia, Poland, and the Turks, are already embroiled; China and Tartary no less so; Hostilities seem beginning in Africa and the East-Indies. Query, How long will Great-Britain be out of this scrape?

By a very popular officer in the army having taken the side of Wilkes and Liberty, it is said every military member follows his steps, which is no inconsiderable weight in the scale of that gentleman's good fortune.

The general opinion now is, that if a certain popular gentleman's rejection was resolved on, that it would have taken place before Tuesday last, in order that writs might be issued for electing two Knights of a certain Shire at one and the same time, to save trouble and expence; on which, and several other accounts, the bet is now run three to one, that the Patriot will take his seat this sessions.

November 26. By private letters from Spain we hear, the Spaniards are very busy in the dock-yards of that kingdom, particularly at Ferrol, where they are hard at work in repairing and fitting out for the sea, eight sail of the line, four frigates and two bombs, besides several transports to be ready early in the spring; but for what service, or where destined, remains a profound secret.

Yesterday his Majesty went, with the usual state, to the House of Peers, and gave the royal assent to the bill for prohibiting, for a further limited time, the exportation of corn, grain, meal, malt, flour, bread, bisket, and starch, and also the extraction of spirits from low wines.

We hear that Mr. Wilkes will attend a certain great assembly on Friday next.

We hear that several witnesses are ordered to attend at the same time in support of a certain petition.

Some changes in the ministry are confidently talked of.

We are assured, that a thorough reconciliation has taken place between the right hon. the Earls of Temple and Chatham, and yesterday the former dined with the latter at his seat at Hayes, near Bromley in Kent.

By accounts received from Dunkirk, and several other ports along the French coast, we are credibly informed, that recruits are raising with the utmost diligence, to complete both their horse and foot forces, and also their artillery, &c.

The election for the county of Middlesex is now fixed for Thursday fevennight, the 8th of December.

Private letters from Paris say, that the right honourable the Earl of Bute is now in Italy, prosecuting his journey to Rome.

We hear very heavy complaints have just been transmitted home, relative to the conduct of three officers in an American province.

November 29. We hear that the guardships at Portsmouth and Plymouth have received orders to be augmented to the middle complement, which will take some hundred more seamen into present pay.

Several important changes in the administration are again talked of as speedily to take place, of which it is said the following are the chief:

The Earl of Chatham to be Secretary of State for the Southern department.

Earl Temple, President of the Council.

Marquis of Rockingham, First Lord of the Treasury.

Right Hon. Mr. Dowdeswell, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Right Hon. George Grenville, Esq; Secretary of State.

Edmund Bourke, Esq; Secretary to the Marquis of Rockingham, as before.

And it is said the Earl of Shelburne will be appointed Ambassador to the court of France.

A person, by a designed mistake, perhaps, called the projected Revolution in the ministry, an Evolution.

Several noble personages, it is said, have been desired to give their attendance, on an important affair now depending.

December 1. We hear that the Right Hon. the Earl of Egmont has been sent for to St James's, and that he was afterwards desired to attend the Cabinet Council.

The E. of C——m has strongly declared his disapprobation of any intended measures to recall Mr. W——e.

We are informed, that immediate liberty has been again promised freely, and some douceurs likewise offered, on condition of stopping all law proceedings against a certain great man; but the acceptance of them has been declined on account of the promise made to the public; and of the enquiry very soon to be entered on relative to the party confined.

The petition of a popular member was yesterday (and not before) delivered into his M——y's own hands, by Sir Joseph Mawbey, Bart.

The following is now a frequent toast among the genuine sons of liberty, viz. the glorious three; Mr. Bourke, as the greatest orator on behalf of liberty, in the house; Mr. Wilkes, as the greatest patriot out of the house; and Mr. Serjeant Glynn, as the honestest lawyer.

December 3. The Venetians, we are told, are taking every necessary precaution to guard against a surprize on the part of the Turky, as it appears, from undoubted authority, there have not been such preparations for war this century past, as at present, throughout the Turkish dominions, which makes the Italian politicians to suppose there is another object in view besides their declaration against the Russians.

It was rumoured this morning that most of the M——ry are of opinion, that the people of America should be obliged to submit to the authority of the Mother Country: that Great Britain should by no means embroil herself by assisting Corsica: that no measures should be taken or any influence used to prevent a certain gentlemen taking his seat.

The popular affair that was to be taken into consideration by an august Assembly, before whom a considerable number of people was ordered to attend, is postponed to Monday se'nnight, the 12th instant, on account of the indisposition of a material evidence.

It is now very confidently affirmed, that the popular state prisoner will in a few days receive a pardon, but not through the meditation of any minister.

We are informed that the friends of Mr. Wilkes have declared to a number of great persons, that he desires no favour to be shewn him, if he does not prove the truth of every allegation in a late petition.

POLITICAL MANOEUVRES.

November 25, 1768.

IN consequence of repeated solicitations on the part of the Earl of Chatham, a most cordial, firm, perpetual union this day took place, with his noble brother-in-law, Earl Temple. It is not doubted that this friendship will produce the most solid advantages to the public, whose interests have, since those noble Lords were jointly in office, been occasionally betrayed and neglected. Mr. Grenville has heartily acceded to this union; so that it may be presumed, there are now the fairest hopes of seeing this country rescued from the storm that for some years has been gathering with a most threatening aspect. In like manner, previous to the late war, when by ignorance, folly, and corruption, the public affairs were reduced to the most deplorable situation, this family, and this family only, rescued the kingdom from the fate that seemed inevitably to await it; and from being the most abject and despicable, it became, in their hands, the most powerful and respectable nation upon the face of the globe.

CHARLES-TOWN, January 26.

LAST Thursday evening arrived, in the Brigt. Jane, Capt. Brand, from Poole, a large quantity of Portland Stone for the new Exchange in this town, with Mr. John Holbeck, one of the contractors for building that edifice. This is the third importation of this kind for that work.——Our public advices from London by this vessel, are to the 5th of December, but we have room for only a few extracts at present.

The same day passed by the Bar, the Sloop Hannah, Capt. Bond, from St. Augustine, bound for Cape Fear, who had that morning spoke with the Snow Swift, John Thompson master, out 6 days from Poole, bound for Sunbury in Georgia, a few miles to the Southward of Tybee.

Col. Walker and Deputy Lewis, Commissioners from Virginia to transact some business with the Superintendent of Indian Affairs for this district, embarked last Friday on their return, in the Second Cape-Fear Packet, Capt. Scott.

The same day Mr. George-Abbot Hall, of this town, merchant, with his family, returned from Bristol, in the Ship St. Helena, Capt. Arthur.

Sunday last arrived here from Halifax having touched at New-Providence and St. Augustine, his Majesty's Sloop Bonetta, James Wallace, Esq; commander; in which came passenger Mr. John Forbes, of this town, merchant.

The Sooner Expedition, John Doran master, with Major Chilton, other officers, and about 90 men of his Majesty's 21st regiment, from St. Augustine, put into George-Town last week. The Major came to town from thence last Monday; the Sooner came in on Tuesday, with about 20 of the men, besides women and children; and the rest are marching over land. A Sloop with about 140 more of said regiment, sailed from St. Augustine last Sunday se'nnight, in company with Capt. Doran, and has not been heard of since.

Last Monday sailed, with the Mails for Falmouth, His Majesty's Packet Boats the Hillsborough and La Despencer, the former commanded by Capt. Leslie Grove, the latter by Capt. Talbott. The same evening arrived, from Falmouth, the Eagle Packet-Boat, commanded by Capt. Jeremiah Beale.

The same day arrived here from London, in the Little Carpenter, Capt. Richard Maitland, the lady of the Right Hon. Lord William Campbell, governor in chief, &c of Nova-Scotia, the lady of the Hon. John Drayton, Esq; Collin Campbell, Esq; and his lady (sister to lady William) Mr. Hawkins, and other passengers.

The Sloop Altitude, John Rains master, from this port for Tortola, is lost on the rocks of Bermuda; only the people saved.

Two Vessels are just arrived from Rhode Island, and one from Boston, by whom we have the following,

BOSTON, January 9.

Copy of a Letter from the Speaker of the late Commons House of Assembly in South Carolina, to the Honourable THOMAS CUMING, Esq;

SIR,

"HAVING had the honour of being chosen Speaker of the Commons House of Assembly, which met at Charles-Town the 15th instant, I took the earliest opportunity of laying before the House, your letter to me of the 11th of February last.

"It is with a satisfaction equal to the importance of the subject, that I obey the order of the House, in informing you of their unanimous resolutions upon the subject matter of your letter, in acquainting you of their entire approbation of the measures taken by the late House of Representatives of the province of Massachusetts-Bay, to obtain a redress of our grievances, and in thanking the members of that House, in their name, for communicating to their fellow subjects and sufferers in this, and the other provinces, their proceedings upon that trying occasion.

"I inclose you the journals of the proceedings of our House of Assembly, during the short but interesting period of their existence, as printed by their order, which must convince the impartial world, that they have acted with duty and affection to his Majesty, at the same time, that they have supported with firmness, the rights they hold under the constitution.

"The House was dissolved by proclamation, on the evening of the day that they entered into their resolutions.—This mode of proceeding may, for a time, involve the province in some difficulties, but I trust, that nothing which the ministry can invent, will ever prevail upon a Commons House of Assembly of South Carolina, tamely to surrender the liberties and privileges of the people, to any power upon earth.

I am Sir with great respect,
Your obliged and obedient Servant,
P. MANIGAULT.

Charles-Town (South Carolina) 21st Nov. 1768.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in New-York, to his friend in Boston, January 2, 1768.

OUR Assembly last Saturday read the letters from your late Assembly and from Virginia, and ordered respectful answers to the same; and passed some constitutional RESOLVES, among which were the following, viz.

Resolved Nemine Contradicente, That it is the opinion of this Committee, that as his most gracious Majesty is the common father of all his good subjects dispersed throughout the various parts of the British Empire; and as the Commons of Great-Britain in parliament assembled, do enjoy a constitutional right of humbly petitioning his Majesty as the common father of his people there for constitutional benefits, and the redress of grievances,—their representatives of this colony, in General-Assembly convened, lawfully may and ought to exercise the same constitutional right when and so often as to them shall seem meet.

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this committee, that this colony lawfully and constitutionally has and enjoys an internal legislature of its own, in which the crown and the people of this Colony are constitutionally represented, and that the power and authority of the said legislature cannot lawfully or constitutionally be suspended, abridged, abrogated or annulled by any power, authority or prerogative whatever (the prerogative of the Crown ordinarily exercised for prerogations or dissolutions only excepted.)

Resolved. That it is the opinion of this committee, that this house has an undoubted right to correspond and consult with any neighbouring colonies, or with any other of his Majesty's subjects out of this colony, or belonging to any part of his Majesty's realms or dominions, either individually or collectively, in any matter, subject or thing whatsoever, whereby they shall conceive the rights, liberties, interests or privileges of this House, or of its constituents, are or may be affected."

RUN AWAY about 3 Months ago,

A Likely NEGRO FELLOW, named SAM, a little pock pitted, and speaks very good English, his feet remarkably short and thick, and his great toes stand wide from the others, and turn towards each other very much; is well known in Charles Town, and in many different parts of the province: He used to be sometimes employed about fetching timber and wood, and has a general acquaintance with boat negroes and fishermen; has been once in England, and it is not improbable that he may attempt to get off in some vessel, it is therefore hoped, that all masters of vessels and of coasting schooners will be cautious that there is no strange Negro harboured or employed without a ticket: He has a wife at Captain Lempriere's, and has been seen at different times in Christ-Church parish, where it is supposed he is harboured; he has likewise been seen in Charles-Town. Whoever will take said negro, and deliver him to the warden of the work-house, or to me in Charles-Town, shall have SIX DOLLARS reward, from JOHN ROSE.

In the COUNCIL-CHAMBER, the 9th Day of December, 1768.

PRESENT, His Excellency the Governor in Council.

HIS Majesty's Surveyor-General, having reported to his Excellency, That several of the parties, who had obtained orders to have plats of land that were out of date in his office, certified to them, had nevertheless neglected to carry them any further, whereby other people were prevented from applying for them, and neither taxes nor quit-rents accrued from the said lands; His Excellency, taking the same into consideration, was pleased, by the advice of the Board, to direct, That, if any person shall hereafter obtain an order, to have an elapsed plat certified to him, and shall not carry the same into a grant within three months hereafter, it shall be again deemed out of date: And that this order be published in the Gazettes.

JAMES SIMPSON, C. C.

RICHARD HART,

COACH & CHAIR-MAKER, in QUEEN-STREET, next door to Mr. CANNON's,

Gives this public Notice,

THAT he will be under the disagreeable necessity of putting all bonds, notes and accompts due to him, and unpaid on the 1st day of February next, into the hands of Thomas Grimball, Esq; attorney at law; his affairs having already suffered greatly by too long indulgence, and as it will not then be in his power to extend it, without still greater injury to himself: He therefore hopes all concerned, will pay a due regard to this advertisement.

He carries on his business as usual, and has lately imported every necessary article for it.

AS the PARTNERSHIP of BRAILSFORD and CHAPMAN expires with the present year, there will be a necessity for closing all their concerns without delay, and they desire ALL PERSONS indebted to them to make immediate payment. ——This request hath frequently been heretofore made by public advertisements, as well as by private application, with but very little effect; therefore, those who shall now neglect this notice, may expect no longer indulgence.

All persons having any demands upon them, are desired to bring in their accompts. to be paid.
